

Bio - short:

Andrew Giordano helps organizations turn “someone should do something about this” into “I’ve got it.” He works with teams struggling with disengagement, inconsistency, and burnout, using record-setting acrobatic skills to awe participants and change behaviour fast. He’s trained tens of thousands of people—and still refuses to believe that more rules are the answer!